

Hoyan

- 1 cup skatikápslat owiskla onutákelí' white sugar
- 4 tbsp kayé: watokwa'tslowá:ná owistohselí' butter
- 2 onhúsa eggs
- 1 cup skatikápslat onúta' milk
- 3 cups Áshá nikatikápslake othé:tli' flour
- 1/2 tsp tshatewatokwatsliyo tyohyó:tsis salt
- 3 tsp Áshá ká'niwatokwatsla watu'kwatha' baking powder
- 1 tsp úska ká'niwatokwatsla vanilla
- 1 third of bottle ká:yé: cooking oil for frying (use enough to cover bottom of fry pan)

Mix the first 4 ingredients together. Then in a larger bowl, mix the next (dry) 3 ingredients. Next stir together the wet mixture into the dry mixture. After blended together roll out onto a pasty board, and cut out the hoyan into donuts or other shapes. Make sure to ask an adult to preheat the cooking oil in the kitchen while cutting out the shapes.

Cook donut until side edges start looking brown (cooked) about 2-3 minutes per side, depending on how high your oil is heated. Recommend Med-High heat then lower to med low if donuts brown too fast

HOYAN HOYAN

skatikápslat

tyohyó:tsis

ka'niwatokwatsla
tsha'tewahsana

watukwatha'

tsha'tewatokwatsli

owistohseli'

otetsheli

owiskla onutakehli

watokwatsló:wan

onhusa'

